Testimony from Home!

BATTIMORE, Sept. 11, 1851.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray: I feel it a duty to make known the benefits I have derived from Dr. Hampton's Tincture. For a length of time I have been subject to great prostration of muscular power, and great debility of the nervous system, accompanied with palpitation and fluttering of the heart. I had such sudden attacks that on one occasion I could searcely get home. I making mention of my case to a friend, he referred me to Joseph R. Stapleton, esq., an old and highly respectable citizen of Baltimore, who had used the Tincture under similar circumstances. I called on Mr. Stapleton, and, after an interview of some minutes, I was fully satisfied of the medical virtues of the Tincture, from the evidence before me, of his own person, who, for some time previous, indicated a failing state of health, but now a hearty, hale appearance, with the activity of youth. I immediately commenced using the Tincture, and, before I took the contents of one bottle, my strength was renewed, and I can walk as brisk and am as active as I was twenty years ago. This Tincture is the grand restorative of the digestive organs, which when destroyed, the whole system is in a state of suffering.

I do assert it is no humbur, but is, in reality, what it is represented to be by Dr. Hampton, the inventor.

A CLOUD OF WITNESSES. We have certificates from Captain Canot, brother to the eminent physician to Louis Napoleon, President of the French republic, who was cured of Rheumatism of seven years' standing; one from Robt, Gault, do., of seven years, one from Mr. Oldham, Baltimore Custom-house, of a dreadful case of dyspepsia and general debility; and one from J. K. Stapleton, esq., of Baltimore, with hundreds of others.

REV. VERNON ESKRIDGE, U. S. N.

PORTSMOUTH. (Va.,) Aug. 18, 1851.

Mr. J. E. Boush—Dear Sir: Whi.e I sh in general opposed to Patent Medicines, candor compels me to state that have great comfidence in the virtues of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture. For several months past I have used it in my family, and in Dyspepsia, loss of appetite, dizzinces, and general debility, with entire success. So far as my experience extends, therefore, I take pleasure in recommending it to the afflicted as a safe and efficient remedy.

ST. LOUIS BONDS WANTED, at the BANK OF THE UNION, Browns' Marble Building NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

Democratic National Convention! [For yesterday evening's proceedings see first page.] BALTIMORE, June 3-9 a. m. The Baltimore morning papers will give you full details of the Convention proceedings yesterday afternoon. So far as physical platforms are concerned, the Democratic Convention may be said to have already established three of them, emphatically shifting from the first two, and planting themselves upon the third, adopted yesterday afternoon. I explain this by stating that both the platforms previously erected proved too small and inconvergent; it therefore became necessary to resort to another, in the centre of the immense hall. The is a decided improvement. It was not, however, large enough to admit the members of Congress and other invited guests, and they were, accordingly, seated among the outsiders.

Speculation in regard to the final result seems more difficult now than it was a week ago. Every day lessens the chances of the old prominent candidates. My impression is, an entirely new man will be sprung on the country.

From the indications last evening it would seem that a storm is gathering. The excitement and confusion were immense. If this continues, it may be Saturday before a nomination for Presdent is made.

There are some delegates to the Whig Convention here, amongst whom are Mr. Lumsden, of the New Orleans Picayune, and Col. Chambers, of the St. Louis Republican. Mr. Fillmore, I believe, is their first choice.

[Second Despatch.]

Baltimore, June 3-104 a. m. The Convention was called to order at nine clock. The hall and galleries were again crowded.

Prayer was offered to the Throne of Grace by Rev. J. Campbell White.

The report of the committee on credentials, so far as relates to the Georgia delegation, was adopted, after a long debate. It admits both sets of delegates, by whom the vote of the State shall be cast.

Hon. Cave Johnson submitted a resolution to go into ballot for candidates for President and Vice President this afternoon at four o'clock. A motion was made to amend the resolution by going into ballet forthwith.

Both propositions were laid on the table. The majority report of the committee on credentials, giving Mr. Lord a seat from Massachusetts, was adopted, by yeas 194, nays 83.

A motion is now pending to reconsider this vote, made by Mr. Neye, who is addressing the Convention. The indications are that the balloting for President will be commenced this afternoon, and prob-

[Third Despatch.] At the conclusion of Mr. Neye's speech, the motion to reconsider was laid on the table. Gen. Commander then rose and moved to reconsider so much of the report of the committee on credentials as relates to South Carolina, entirely excluding him from the floor. It was decided by the Chair that General Commander was not a member, and therefore not entitled to make any motion.

A motion of Hon. Cave Johnson to go into ballot for President was amended, to go forthwith, and adopted:

Mr. Clay.

The health of this venerable statesman has been variable for several days past; but he is today not perceptably worse than during any period of the last month.

From the New Orleans Crescent we quote the following beautiful language:

" Henry Clay is dying. The whole country awaits in reverence and awe the passage of that mighty and heroic soul, which, in half of a century of political contest, has known no impulse but patriotism, no ambition but to be right. The millions of American freemen, throughout the broad Union, now only need to hear the name of Henry Clay, and they stand as within the solemn precincts of the death-chamber, its hush of reigious stillness, its fearful awe of melancholy expectation, its majestic foreboding of the earthly close of one of the most eventful and magnificent of American historic lives. There is the great old man-dying.

once cheered him at every step—no wild outburst of the enthusias n which knew no other idol—no thronging in upon him of the host which once answered tumultuously to his bugle call. He has sounded his last rally, and it was for the Inion. He was bravely answered, and goes with his last mighty triumph shining upon his path of departure, like some great ship which, at nightfall, passes out upon a darkening waste of waters, with the light of the sun yet glowing in her wake. A nation's Faith, and Hope, and Memory, and Affection, are gathered in mouroful uncertainty around the couch upon which the great and powerful statesman, the chivalric and nigh souled gentleman, the fearless and sleepless patriot, the matchless and persuasive orator, is slowly dying, in the dimmed light and hushed quiet of his chamber."
